Volume 50

With the 1959 issue the Mennonite Yearbook makes its fiftieth appearance since its first publication in 1905. From 1909 to 1912 it was not published and the two years 1914 and 1915 were combined in one issue.

On my desk is a copy of the first issue dated A.D. 1905. It was published by the Mennonite Board of Charitable Homes and Missions. It states its purpose as follows: "We have felt the need of introducing into the homes of our people a publication laden with helpful information, historical sketches, and encouraging reports from various changes." The editorial formula remains the same today as it was in 1905, except perhaps the emphasis on historical sketches. Other publications are now carrying the historical material.

As I perused this first issue I immediately began to make comparisons with the 1959 issue and the 1905 issue. The information in the 1905 issue pertained to the year 1904. Here are some interesting comparisons:

The information and statistical data have been revised and brought up to date as of December, 1958. A list of the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of unordained members on general boards and committees has been prepared by the Executive Secretary of General Conference. This list precedes the Ministerial Directory.

We wish to thank all those who have given of their time and effort in revising the data and sending it promptly to the Yearbook office. We again send out this handbook of information with the prayer that it will be profitable and useful to our users and be a means of strengthening the church in Christ, for we believe a church that knows is a church that grows.

The Mennonite Church in 1959

By Paul Erb, Executive Secretary of Mennonite General Conference

The Mennonite Yearbook is largely limited to information about the Mennonite Church, which is the largest (83,204 members) of a number of related groups in America which use the Mennonite name. This article tries to give an over-all picture of the Mennonite Church at the beginning of 1959.

The chart on p. 6 diagrams the organizational pattern of the church. A few congregations are independent, i.e., unattached to any conference. But most of the 1069 organized and unorganized congregations belong to one of the twenty conferences which are members, or eligible for membership, in Mennonite General Conference. Member conferences are connected on the chart by a solid line to General Conferences. Conferences connected by a broken line have not yet affiliated with General Conference, but are considered a part of the denomination, and are counted in the statistical data in the Yearbook. All but one of these conferences elect members on the General Council, which meets several times in each biennium to discuss issues and to take interim action. All of the twenty conferences elect representatives on the Publication Board, and most of them participate actively in the work of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities and the Mennonite Board of Education.

A great deal of the denominational program is carried on by these three boards. They are autonomous, i.e., not organizationally responsible to General Conference, as the broken lines indicate. They report their work to General Conference, however, and operate within its standards. Co-ordination of the church program is secured through the General Council, on which the boards have membership, and especially through the Council's Committee on Co-ordination of Church Program. So while the program is not centrally administered, it is co-ordinated.

To keep the chart simple, we have not diagrammed the organization of the boards, beyond showing the connection of a few subsidiaries. The chart does not show the Nominating Committee of General Conference, which is now a standing committee, nor the subsidiary organizations of Mennonite Mutual Aid.

Mennonite General Conference

The Mennonite General Conference maintains its headquarters office at Scottdale, Pa. Its meetings are biennial, the latest meeting having been held at Harrisonburg, Va., in August, 1957. The Conference will hold its thirty-first session at Goshen Ind., Aug. 25-27. The theme of the program will be: "The Word of God to the Church of Today." Member conferences may elect delegates, one for each 200 members. Bishops in conferences eligible for membership, but not yet affiliated, are delegates ex officio. Members of the General Council are also delegates to General Conference. Delegates attending the 1957 conference numbered 176.

The General Council met only once in 1958—at Laurelville, Pa., Sept. 24-26. A study conference on the Nature of the Church, sponsored by the Ministerial Committee, preceded the regular business meeting.

General Conference operates on an annual budget of $45,000, given by the constituency on a basis of $1.00 per member plus 35¢ per Sunday-school enrollee.

The organizational personnel of General Conference may be seen on p. 14.

Mennonite Mutual Aid, Inc., cares for a number of economic needs within the brotherhood. Subsidiary organizations are the Mennonite Foundation, Mennonite Automobile Aid, Mennonite Aid, Inc., and Mennonite Buildings, Inc. In 1958 widows' and survivors' rehabilitation was added to such other mutual aid services as loans, investments, financial counseling, refugee loans, guidance in colonization, community placement service, church building, and sharing of expenses occasioned through sickness and death. All these services were within the year housed in a new building in Goshen, Ind.

Mennonite General Conference participates in the Schowalter Foundation and annually receives funds which thus far have been used for theological scholarships and the support of senior church workers.

The Mennonite Commission for Christian Education is working at its important task of promoting Christian education on the congregational level. The emphasis for 1958 was "Following Christ in Our Work." A number of regional conferences and the publication of G. F. Hershberger's The Way of the Cross in Human Relations and a number of periodical articles aided in this emphasis. The 1959 emphasis is "Christian Training for Christian Service." Plans are in the making for a 1960 emphasis on "Unity of the Spirit." District representatives met with the Commission at Nappanee, Ind., in October, 1958. The spring meeting of the Commission in 1959 will be held at Scottdale, April 10, 11.

In 1959 the Commission will present to the General Council a comprehensive study of the use of television, with recommendations. The Council has assigned to the Commission the study of the strengths and weaknesses of the nurture of our youth; this study will get under way this year.

Mennonite Youth Fellowship, which functions under the Commission, held its 1958 general meeting in August at Iowa Mennonite School. The 1959 meeting will be in August at Kidron Ohio. In 1958 our youth work for the first time had a full-time youth field worker. He is supported jointly by the Commission and the Mennonite Relief and Service Committee.

The Music Committee is working on a revision of the Church Hymnal. The publication of Our Hymns of Praise, a children's hymnal, in 1958, met an enthusiastic reception. The committee sponsors an annual church music conference at Laurelville Mennonite Camp.

The annual conference on Christian community relations was held in 1958 at Kalona, Iowa. It stressed the Commission's theme for the year, "Following Christ in Our Work." The 1959 meeting was held at Hubbard, Oreg., in February. This meeting is sponsored jointly by the Mennonite Community Association and the Committee on Economic and Social Relations of General Conference.

The Objectives for the biennium adopted by Mennonite General Conference are found on p. 8.

Mennonite Publication Board

The Mennonite Publication Board, one of the three autonomous church-wide boards of the Mennonite Church, observed its fiftieth anniversary in 1958. The annual meeting, held at Scottdale, reviewed with thanksgiving the developments of fifty years. J. A. Hostetler's God Uses Ink was published to tell this story. The Gospel Herald came out in a special issue. Publishing interests were presented at most of the district conferences.

The annual report to the Board showed total assets of $1,618,000. Total sales for 1957 were almost

In 1958 Weaver's Book Store at Lancaster, Pa., moved into much more commodious quarters, as did the Golden Rule branch at London, Ont.

Books published in 1958, in addition to those already mentioned, were: Group Dynamics in Evangelism, by Paul M. Miller; Breaking Bread Together, edited by Elaine Rich; The Miller Five, by Esther Eby Glass; Torchbearer's Guidebook, by Evan Oswald; The Way of the Cross in Human Relations, by Guy Hershberger; Beginning the Christian Life (pupils' book and teacher's book), by Russell Krabill; and Youth Program Ideas III, edited by Willard and Alice Roth. The Focal Pamphlets were begun in the publication of Integration—Who's Prejudiced? by C. Norman Kraus, and The Church and the Community, by J. Lawrence Burkholder.

New books in 1959 will include The Holy Spirit and the Holy Life, by Chester K. Lehman; Christian Relations to the State As Taught in the New Testament, by Archie Penner; Jesus and Human Conflict, by H. A. Fast; Through Sunlight and Shadow, by Evelyn Bauer; Evangelism and Nurture of Children, by Gideon G. Yoder; Youth Program Ideas IV, by Kathryn Aschliman.

The Mennonite Encyclopedia will come to completion with the publication of the fourth volume.

A third number of Focal Pamphlets will be The Ecumenical Movement and the Faithful Church, by J. H. Yoder.

A new adapted Kindergarten II course for Sunday schools went into use in October, 1958. The first primary course of the new graded series will be ready for October, 1959. Other courses in this series are being written and will be published in the next few years.

The election of Publishing Agent A. J. Metzler as Secretary for Literature Evangelism under Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities was a forward step in the implementation of plans for contributing to the need for Christian literature in many foreign countries. Mennonite Publishing House is coming to be known for its interest in foreign literature.

Mennonite Board of Education

The Mennonite Board of Education operates and controls Goshen College, Goshen College Biblical Seminary, and Hesston College. The Mennonite School of Nursing at La Junta graduated its last class in 1958.

The Goshen College Biblical Seminary moved into its new building at the end of 1958. Ground was broken for a men's dormitory at Hesston. The new church-chapel at Goshen will be completed in 1959.

The Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminaries, in which our Goshen Seminary is a participant, began functioning when the Mennonite Biblical Seminary, moving from Chicago to Elkhart was opened in September, 1958.

Tilman M. Smith was elected, at the annual Board meeting held in October, 1958, at Kidron, Ohio, to serve as president of Hesston College. He will succeed Roy D. Roth in July, 1959. Hesston is observing its fiftieth anniversary this year. Special features will mark the 1959 commencement, and there will be anniversary programs in connection with the annual Board of Education meeting to be held at Hesston in October.

Eastern Mennonite College, at Harrisonburg, Va., operated by the Virginia Conference, improved its facilities in 1957 by the opening of a new student union and gymnasium building. Lancaster Mennonite School built a new auditorium. The projected Ohio high school will begin construction at Kidron, Ohio, in 1959.

A second function of the Board of Education is to furnish a liaisonship for the whole extensive educational program of the church—both that administered by the Board and that administered by conferences and other groups. This is carried out through the General Educational Council, which has its own Educational Agent, and through subsidiary councils for seminaries, colleges, secondary schools, elementary schools, and nursing education. Cooperative studies are carried on, and through offered guidance the total educational experience of the church is made available to all schools.

Enrollment in our colleges continues to run ahead of figures projected by the study of several years ago. Total enrollment in our three colleges in September, 1958, was about 2000.

J. D. Graber's Conrad Grebel Lectures on the "Philosophy of Missions" will be given at several different places in 1959. The next lectures will be written by Harold S. Bender on a subject relating to the church.

Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

The headquarters of the Board are at Elkhart, Ind. Organizationally the Mission Board administers its work through departments headed by secretaries. Three areas—Relief and Service, Mennonite Broadcasts, and Health and Welfare—are administered by administrative committees, each of which has an executive secretary.

Either directly or in co-operation with a district mission board work is carried on in 19 foreign areas through a total of 164 missionaries.

The annual meeting of the Board was held at Milford, Nebr., in June, 1958. The 1959 meeting will be held at Hesston, Kans., June 8-14.

The treasurer reported that total giving of the church through the district and General Mission Boards was $2,489,962, an increase of $178,784 over the previous year. The General Board has a current budget of $1,260,341.98. It employs a total personnel of about 825 in an extensive operation of home and foreign missions, broadcasting, relief and service, hospitals, child welfare, homes for the aged, and literature evangelism. The appointment of a Secretary for Literature Evangelism was a new step taken in 1958. The Board accepted administrative responsibility for the work of the Ontario Hebrew Mission and the Amazon Valley Indian Mission, Araguacema, Brazil.

The work of Mennonite Broadcasts, Inc., has grown from one station and one language in 1951 to 206 stations and six languages at the beginning of 1959. The station count is English, 136 (Mennonite Hour, 79; Way of Life, 14; Heart to Heart, 43); Spanish, 24, Navaho, 2; Japanese, 40 (2 radio stations and 38 farmer wire-networks); Italian, 1; French, 3. A Russian broadcast and a children's program are in the planning stages. Correspondence courses are in use in four different languages—two in English, three in Spanish, one in French, and three in Japanese. A third English course is now being written.

Several district mission boards conduct foreign missions, in addition to home missions and institutions. Franconia has missions in Cuba and Mexico; Virginia in Italy and Jamaica.

The Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, serving the Lancaster Conference, is the chief missionary agent for one-fifth of our total membership, and supports missions in six foreign countries. It is operating in 1959 on a budget of $670,000, which is approximately equal to receipts in 1958. This Board observes this year the twenty-fifth anniversary of its first foreign mission, that in Tanganyika. The Conservative Mennonites co-operate with the Eastern Board in Luxembourg and conduct a work in Germany.

Inter-Mennonite Activities

The Mennonite Church carries on a number of activities in co-operation with other Mennonite groups. Chief means of this co-operation is the Mennonite Central Committee, with headquarters at Akron, Pa. Co-operating groups number 13. MCC carries on an extensive program of relief, now operating in 20 foreign countries. Its Peace Section coordinates the peace work of the various groups, especially in government contacts. It participates in the National Service Board of Religious Objectors, which maintains an office in Washington. It helps in the resettlement of Mennonite refugees. In the United States it has led out in a mental health program. It carries on a program of voluntary service, both at home and abroad.

Total receipts of MCC in 1958 were $1,903,115.00. Of this amount $1,091,666.00 were composed of gifts in kind—donated food and clothing, including $239,066.00 worth of government surplus food. The 1959 budget is $694,316.00, not including material aid and institutions.

Plans are being made for holding the Seventh Mennonite World Conference in Kitchener, Ont., in 1962.

The Mennonite Church is co-operating with the General Conference Mennonites in producing a graded Sunday school curriculum for primary, junior, and intermediate pupils. The first of the nine courses will go into use in October, 1959. This graded course will be used also by the Mennonite Brethren Church. The General Conference, Mennonite Brethren, and Mennonite Churches are co-operating in producing the Mennonite Encyclopedia.

We co-operate with other groups in the Conference of Historic Peace Churches in Ontario, the Association of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges, the Mennonite Research Fellowship, the Association of Mennonite Hospitals and Homes, the Association of Mennonite Aid Societies, Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminaries, and an Association of Mission Board Secretaries. Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Uruguay is inter-Mennonite, and our foreign missionaries in several countries have close inter-group relations. In North America an inter-Mennonite Ministerial Study Committee has been appointed. The Brunk evangelistic party spent the summer of 1958 in British Columbia, where Mennonite groups co-operated in sponsoring the meetings.

Directions

Growth and change are seen in almost every phase of the life and work of the Mennonite Church. Outreach and wider testimony are making their contribution and are bringing also certain strains. The times in which we live and the gradual disappearance of isolationism from our way of living bring reappraisals of the best forms in which the eternal Gospel should be expressed. This is a day of opportunity and of testing for the Mennonite Church.

John R. Shank (1877-1958)

By J. W. Shank

Everywhere he was known, Brother John was looked upon as a person of good character. Knowing him as my older brother, I cannot recall a single occasion when he was harsh, unkind, or unfair in any way.

Through the influence of J. S. Coffman he became a Christian in his middle teens, was baptized, and became a member of the Mennonite Church. It was through the same influence that he was led, years later, to enter the Bible Department of the Elkhart Institute. As a student there, and later at Goshen College, he was a member of a literary society, association with which he felt would help to develop the ability to speak in public. At the same time he refused to participate in anything which seemed to him inappropriate for a professing Christian.

All of the students knew him as a man of keen conscience. Many thought he was too retiring and too fearful of overstepping the bounds of this conscience. However, these same persons highly respected him and he was often called upon to do his part when something substantial was desired for specific public occasions.

John was deeply interested in Bible study. I am certain he took every course obtainable in this field during his student days. He did not, however, neglect studies in science, history, mathematics, psychology, and languages. He especially loved Greek because the original New Testament books were written in this tongue.

In the year 1905 John left his studies after receiving a call to take charge of a small mission outpost at Pea Ridge, a point about 25 miles west of Hannibal, Mo. At this time he was ordained to the ministry. Most of the families living in this rather rough country had a hard time making a living, but John was well adapted to the self-sacrificing type of life necessary in serving such a people.

Later, in the year 1908, when the church was well established here and another person was available to take charge of the work, John answered another call of Conference to the Osage River district south of Versailles, Mo., near Carver. In this region he served for more than forty years. This hill country for many years had only dirt roads, and many of the back roads were unfit for travel with a vehicle. Because of these conditions much of his travels were by horseback. Also on many occasions he would walk across stony hills, sometimes for long distances.

It was my privilege, in the summer of 1933 when home on furlough from South America, to accompany Brother John to distant preaching points where we used the above methods of travel, including crossing the Osage River by ferry. In connection with these preaching appointments we also visited many homes, and I observed how keenly these hill people appreciated this rural preacher whom they accepted as a friendly counselor. Whether they were Baptists, Methodists, or of no church affiliation seemed to make no difference in their appreciation of his witness among them.

However, a tremendous change took place in this entire region when a large dam was built and the Lake of the Ozarks was formed. Paved roads were built, lake resorts established, families moved out of the lowlands that were later flooded, people of other regions purchased land and buildings sites along the lake, and beautiful homes and even some villages sprung up. It became necessary that Brother John and his wife sell their home and move to the uplands where they began "from scratch" to build a new church community. This made the later years of his work in these hills somewhat disappointing and difficult for a man then past sixty years of age. The lake divided the entire region, and it was therefore impossible to give proper pastoral care to the same outposts where church groups had earlier been formed.

During most of the years of John's service in the Missouri hills he had other phases of service that gave him opportunity to spend long hours daily studying the Word of God. For many years he continued the following types of work: editor of the Young People's Bible Meeting Topics section in Christian Monitor; writer of the adult Teacher's Sunday School Lesson Quarterly from 1915 to 1950; also he was a member of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and served for several years as secretary of Young People's Bible Meetings. He also served as conference secretary in the South Central Conference district, and in 1941 was ordained a bishop and had the responsibilities of bishop oversight in South Missouri.

In his work as a part-time employee of the Mennonite Publishing House, as well as in other church- or conference-wide activities, John worked diligently, performing his duties conscientiously and with great loyalty to the principles for which our church has always stood.

Brother John had a pleasing personality and was one who appreciated people and liked to associate with them. Perhaps because of shyness it was not until in his forty-eighth year he finally chose the companion who became his faithful wife for the remaining 33 years of his life. On March 8, 1925, he was united in marriage to Clara M. Brubaker of Birch Tree, Mo. Although he and Clara were both fond of children it was not their privilege to have any of their own. However, they could feel happy because of the many children in the Lord who came into the church and received Christian nurture through their untiring efforts.

John R. Shank and wife Clara. Sister Shank, who was a faithful helper in the work of her husband, passed away a few months after Bro. Shank.

He was born Aug. 10, 1877, near Versailles, Mo., the son of Lewis and Mary (Wenger) Shank; passed away at the Ellis Fischel Hospital on Apr. 26, 1958, following a serious operation. Funeral services were held Apr. 28, in charge of Harry Diener, Earl Buckwalter, Amos Gingerich, and Leroy Gingerich. His wife died a few months later, Sept. 21, 1958.

La Junta, Colo.

William W. Graybill (1880-1958)

By Ira D. Landis

William W. Graybill was born April 1, 1880, on a farm near Bunkertown, Pa., the son of a minister, William and Elizabeth (Shelley) Graybill. He received his formal education in a little red schoolhouse to which he trudged a mile and a half through mud and snow. He learned Pennsylvania German, but since his father was the first English preacher in the Richfield Valley, he learned English first.

As his life companion he chose Mary J. Wingard, daughter of Jacob and Katie (Blauch) Wingard, of the Johnstown, Pa., district. For a vocation he farmed in this beautiful Richfield Valley. God blessed them with a family of eight children: J. Roy; J. Walter; Catherine R. (Mrs. David Kauffman); Simon R.; Lena E. (Mrs. Norman Brubaker); Frieda N. (Mrs. Chester Lauver); Anna P. (Mrs. Rawley Gehnert); Paul W.; and William W. His entire family, with the exception of one, lived in this same valley and attended the church of their childhood.

He became a Christian under the influence of Amos D. Wenger, who held a revival meeting at the Lauver Church, and was baptized on Jan. 1, 1896, by Jacob N. Brubacher. The following year a Sunday-school session was opened at Cross Roads Church where two of his brothers served as superintendents.

Dedicated as a young man, he was ordained to the ministry on Sept. 13, 1904, at Lauver Church, by Jacob N. Brubacher and Martin Rutt. At the age of 26, on Nov. 13, 1906, he was ordained to the office of bishop by Isaac Eby and Abraham Herr.

As a young bishop he worked with William Auker for about twenty months, and then on his own in the far northwest wing of Lancaster Conference. He exercised some of the mildness, yet firmness, learned in his parental home. He developed the confidence and the co-operation of his co-workers. Through the years his ministry was on a circuit, including the six churches used today. He held a district ministers' meeting semiannually for questions of administration and procedure, and at conference he represented them. In fifty-one years of service he baptized 641 persons.

He served as assisting bishop in Franklin County before and since Christian V. Martin's bishop ordination, and served also as moderator of the Lancaster Mennonite Conference from 1941 to 1950. His own district was enlarged during his years of service. He saw Fairview and McAlisterville schoolhouses used as mission stations and later Rockland; then more recently Locust Grove. Cross Roads, Lauver, and Delaware are in new buildings and Buffalo in Union County has been added. The membership of 300 in 1906 has increased to 462.

During the period of his church administrative leadership he saw evangelistic meetings coming in 1905, young people's meetings, the mission interests of the conference crystallized in a strong conference-wide organization with both a strong home and foreign program, Sunday schools, Bible meetings, sewing circles and young people's institutes. These have been or are a part of our Christian education and church life.

As a bishop Bro. Graybill was always considerate. As a preacher he may have been slow of speech, but when he spoke his words were filled with meaning. His favorite hymn was, "O My Soul, Bless Thou Jehovah." Favorite Scriptures included Micah 6:8 and II Peter 1:4. He not only stressed unity but worked accordingly.

On the fiftieth anniversary of his bishop ordination, in 1956, a special meeting was held at the Lauver Church where he was baptized and also ordained both times. There were three generations of his own family on the program. This meeting was unique in the annals of the conference, and one leaving an imprint on the district.

When his services were being curtailed, due to age, and his voice was not as frequently heard in public, his life very definitely counted in his home and district, and his labors do follow. He ordained all of his present ministry and more, including Donald Lauver, his successor, who is taking up the reins in the way Bro. Graybill has so nobly guided.

Bro. William's formula for closing his prayers was: "When our time comes to leave the earth and the world, all of us want to hear the welcome words: 'Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.' In Jesus' name, we ask it all. Amen."

His death came on Mar. 31, 1958, after a slight stroke two days before. The funeral was held at Cross Roads with Donald Lauver, Henry E. Lutz, Noah W. Risser and Harvey E. Shank in charge. Burial in the Brick Cemetery. His widow said, "I often waited for him. Now he is waiting for me."

John W. Hess (1884-1958)

By Ira D. Landis

Brother Hess was born June 13, 1884, near Lincoln, Pa., the son of Simon P. and Sara (Wolf) Hess. While still a young boy, his parents moved to Akron, Pa., where his father, along with others, opened the Miller-Hess Shoe Company. John learned the rudiments of salesmanship while helping in grocery stores in the small towns of Monterey and Akron, and then later entered the shoe factory on ground level. Later in his life he was quite active as a salesman for this same company, serving over a period of thirty years. On many of these trips he was accompanied by his wife.

On April 9, 1905, he was married to Lizzie Burkholder, at the Union Grove farm home of Benjamin Weaver, who officiated in the marriage. On a Saturday evening prior to their marriage, both of them accepted Christ as their Saviour during a service held by A. D. Wenger at the Ephrata Mennonite Church. They were later baptized at the Metzler Church by Bishop Benjamin Weaver.

J. W. Hess and wife Lizzie. Sister Hess is still active in Christian witnessing, making her home in Arizona.

The following year A. D. Wenger held revival meetings at Ephrata, Pa., during which time he fellowshiped with the Hesses in their home. Brother Hess and his wife both felt the Lord was calling them to more active Christian service, and they discovered also that another young couple who had just become Christians, shared the same convictions. It was about this time that the death of Brother Jacob Burkhard occurred in India, and a strong call came through the church periodicals for volunteers to the India field. After praying for the Lord's direction, Brother and Sister Hess, along with this other young couple, expressed their willingness to offer themselves for service in India. Later they received information from the mission board president of their acceptance. However, due to shortage of funds, and the fact that each of the couples had a child under one year of age, they were assigned to home mission service.

After a farewell service at the Ephrata Church, Brother and Sister Hess were sent to the Kansas City, Kansas, mission where they served for about eleven months. Because of health circumstances it became necessary to leave the city. About this time a call came for Brother Hess to serve, with his wife, in rural mission work at Pea Ridge, Missouri, to help carry on the work begun by John R. Shank. On Nov. 8, 1908, Brother Hess was ordained to the ministry by Daniel Kauffman. For about ten years they served in this area. It was during this period that Brother Hess began his evangelistic work.

Following these years of service in this rural mountain area with a membership of forty in the church, Brother Hess answered a call to Manson, Iowa, where he served a congregation of approximately 350 for a period of six years.

After these seventeen years of service, in the spring of 1924, he with his family returned to Akron, Pa., their former home community.

In addition to his evangelistic endeavors, he served as pastor of the Reading Mission (1928-39), and assisted also at Elizabethtown (1945-50). He became a member of the Lancaster Conference on March 16, 1944. Also he served on the first Summer Bible School Committee (beginning 1932), which prepared the first weekday Bible school manuals, and on the first Union Committee of the Conference (beginning March, 1944).

Brother Hess's greatest contribution was as an evangelist and Bible conference instructor, in which field he served the church quite extensively throughout the States. His messages were filled with illustrations of incidents experienced during his varied and widespread ministry, making them interesting and profitable.

During the last few years of his life he spent some time traveling abroad, visiting Palestine, and later South America and Mexico.

As a shoe salesman he traveled quite extensively over a period of years and made many contacts in this manner.

Their marriage was blessed with eight children: Mrs. Alma B. Hershey, Akron, Pa.; Joseph B. and Margie B. (Mrs. Elmer Hershey), Lititz, Pa.; Simon B., Manheim, Pa.; Melo (who died in infancy); Emma B., La Junta, Colo.; James B., Lititz, Pa.; and Sara B. (Mrs. Herbert S. Hess), Quarryville, Pa.

Brother Hess passed away April 5, 1958, after he had suffered a slight stroke while spending the winter in Arizona, with a second stroke following shortly after returning to his home near Lititz, Pa. Funeral services were held at the Ephrata Mennonite Church in charge of Amos S. Horst and David L. Landis. Interment in Metzler's Cemetery.

As long as health permitted, Brother Hess was always interested and active in the service of the Lord, and he made an appreciated contribution to the work of the Mennonite Church. He helped to awaken hundreds across the church from their slothfulness and sin, saving them for the Lord and the church.

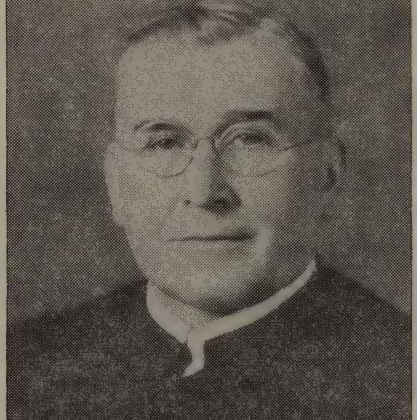
Enos F. Hartzler (1886-1958)

By Earl J. Hartzler

Enos Franklin Hartzler, son of the late J. B. and Esther (Hooley) Hartzler, was born Aug. 26, 1886, in Logan Co., Ohio. He was the sixth child in a family of ten. These children were taught the Holy Scriptures and carried to the place of worship before they could walk. Their lives were disciplined according to the Word of God. Their father and also their grandfather, David Hartzler, were ministers of the Gospel.



Enos F. Hartzler

They were educated at a rural school near Huntsville. One year all but two attended, the older children trudging ahead with a basket of dinner for eight.

At an early age, after many struggles against the pleadings of God's Spirit, Father yielded his life completely to God, who gave him a great concern and burden for the Lord's work.

When he became of age, he spent a summer in Illinois working for a farmer where his newfound faith in the Lord was tested.

Tender to the call of the Spirit he responded to a plea for help at the Canton, Ohio, Mission, where he became coworker with P. R. Lantz and wife. While there he became acquainted with Ada E. Stauffer, also a mission worker. On June 15, 1909, they were united in marriage by I. J. Buchwalter, Bro. and Sister Lantz serving as attendants.

For a number of years Father had a conviction that the Lord would someday call him to the ministry. He told this to no one except his intended bride. They were not surprised when they were called to accept the charge of a minister and begin mission work in Altoona, Pa. He was ordained Jan. 11, 1910. His first sermon in this new field was preached to his wife and a little girl. One winter was faced with an empty coal bin and one penny. Their home consisted of a couple small rooms above a barber shop, which was the place of my birth.

Because Father was physically unable to adapt himself to the altitude, water, and long trips on the hard sidewalks of Altoona, it became evident that their service here could not continue. So they spent about a year on a rented farm in Mahoning Co., Ohio, where his health greatly improved.

An urgent request came for a series of meetings in Youngstown, Ohio, that fall. Father promised for a week in spite of home responsibilities. By the end of the week revival had begun with 30 or 40 confessions. It was decided that someone should be sent to care for his farm work so that the meetings might continue.

Father and Mother made another attempt to help in the work at Altoona, but soon realized that Father was unable, and on returning became superintendent of the Old People's Home near Rittman, Ohio. Later he was appointed pastor to assist David Amstutz, who was bishop of the Crown Hill Mennonite Church. He also spent much time in evangelistic work. As a personal worker he brought spiritual blessings to many. Col. 1:27-29 best describes the motivating passion of his life.

Visitors and strangers sensed the genuineness of his hospitality. One day 45 guests were entertained and fed as they were on their way to General Conference.

Father led us in a blessed worship experience every morning that he was at home. The Holy Spirit used his life and testimony to bring us to Christ and victory.

He was ordained bishop on Aug. 20, 1924. He endeavored to serve faithfully in this capacity at Crown Hill and also later at Allensville, Pa., and at the Salem congregation near Weilersville, Ohio, until a few years before his death.

After Mother's death in 1943 Father was quite lonely and sometimes handicapped in his ministerial work. After seeking the Lord's leading and the advice of his children, he was united in marriage to Elizabeth Brubaker, who proved to be a most devoted wife, stepmother, and grandmother. During the months that Father was an invalid, Mother bravely, faithfully, and lovingly cared for him.

Father believed that the Gospel was to be lived as well as accepted by faith. For instance: When we were milking about 20 cows by hand, our milk company demanded that all producers become members of the milk association. This would violate II Cor. 6 regarding the unequal yoke. So we sold cream, using a small hand separator, until about six weeks later when we began selling milk to another company. This experience made a great impression on me. He not only taught us the Scriptures—he lived them. He was very poor financially, but I learned that he was ready to endure any hardship rather than disobey God.

Sept. 14, 1958, marks the day of his passing. May the seed that has been sown by his life and ministry of the Word continue to grow and bear fruit unto eternal life in the hearts of many people.

Onego, W. Va.

Eli J. Bontreger (1868-1958)

By Manasseh E. Bontreger

One of the statements made by Bro. Bontreger in his life story which he had written between the years 1943 and 1955, is "O that I might ever after have been kept pure and sinless as I was on that Sunday night." He was referring to his birth on Sunday night, Jan. 19, 1868. His parents were John and Barbara (Mishler) Bontreger, from near Shipshewana, Ind. Since Father was a minister of the Gospel and at one time a public schoolteacher, he took great pains to teach his children the German language and to learn to read the Bible. Quoting from his life story, "It always was easy for me to memorize anything that I wished to 'learn by heart' as we used to say. Father encouraged me in memorizing Scriptures and songs and other Christian poems, etc. At his suggestion I memorized Romans 8, Luke 2, and Acts 5, each chapter in two days' time. Also Psalms 1, 9, and 146 were memorized then, and most of these have remained in my memory up to this time. I am not boasting; I am simply saying what can be accomplished when one has a God-given gift of learning and remembering, and the will to use it, plus a father who knows how to teach and encourage boys."

At the age of six he started to school. His favorite subject was arithmetic in which he excelled, and as a boy of eleven he was in the same class with grown men. He enjoyed spellings, debates, and other literary exercises which all proved of great help to him later. A Methodist Sunday school as well as their own church activities were aids in his spiritual development. He learned many good mottoes in his school years, and one that he never forgot and later taught his children, was: "Be prompt to fulfill all your engagements. You may waste your own time, but you have no right to waste the time of another." At fifteen years of age he decided to quit school, but later regretted that he did not get more education when he had the opportunity.

As a young man he had a real conversion experience, was baptized, and received as a member of the Old Order Amish Mennonite Church where his parents were also members.

On Dec. 18, 1890, he was married to Mattie Miller, and four years later, on May 13, 1894, he was ordained to the ministry. In the spring of 1895 they joined the new settlement in North Dakota, where they lived for fifteen years. On June 18, 1901, he was called by the church to service in the capacity of bishop. Although he felt unworthy, but with a willing spirit to serve as the Lord opened the way, he was used extensively throughout the United States and Canada.

The early years in the Northwest were pioneering days in which they faced difficult experiences. Besides leaving their parents and friends in the East they faced more severe winter weather with insufficient housing; part of their house was made of sod, with lack of fuel and 35 miles to go for firewood. On one of their trips for firewood they returned with only a few poles each, and a broken sled. Once Father took some butter to town 20 miles away to exchange for some nails he needed for building, only to find that they had plenty of butter and refused to buy. He had to return without the nails.

In October, 1910, they moved to northern Wisconsin where they spent six happy years. It was during this time that the Herold der Wahrheit came into being, and he was asked to become its first editor. In this capacity he served for 2½ years. About this time also he was called to assist in many other churches, serving in various capacities, which meant much time spent away from home.

In November, 1916, they moved to Indiana, residing on his home place, which they had purchased. In about two years' time, on Sept. 24, 1918, sudden sorrow struck the home when his companion was instantly crushed to death by a runaway team.

During these years Father was often away from home in church interests, serving in the capacity of

* Includes 6 three-week schools in Lancaster Conference and 2 three-week schools in Virginia Conference.

Note: Because of incomplete reporting, some of the Conference totals and main totals are only approximate. Operating cost per pupil, based on enrollment, was $0.98. Missionary offerings amounted to 36½% of the total operating cost.

There was a total of 352 decisions for Christ reported from the schools.

bishop and helping to maintain peaceable relationships. These churchwide calls required much traveling and took him into every state of the Union and five provinces of Canada.

During World War I he visited the boys in the camps. As a member of the Mennonite Central Committee and the Peace Committee, this also required time and travel. During World War II the greater portion of his time was devoted to youth in the CPS program. Besides visiting the boys in camp, or hospitals, or on detached service elsewhere, he maintained his other constant churchwide responsibilities.

On Dec. 5, 1920, he was married to Amanda Miller of Oscoda, Co., Michigan.

As a minister he was impartial in trying to fulfill his duties. Whether layman or minister, he desired always to deal fairly in every circumstance. He did some writing for church papers, finished the compiling of material for the Bontreger history in 1923, and in later years wrote a number of poems. The energetic and faithful attitude in which he always accepted responsibilities is only one of the characteristics remembered by his family. His inherent talents were well developed and his services were in demand. Humility and patience were some of the reasons why his services were widely sought, and in all his labors he sought the glory of God.

By the first marriage eight children were born, three of whom died while very young. Those growing to maturity are: John of Belleville, Pa.; Manasseh of Calico Rock, Ark.; Levi of Middlebury, Ind.; Lydia (Mrs. Jacob Stoltzfus), Mio, Mich.; Katie (Mrs. Levi L. Stutzman), Millersburg, Ind.; by the second marriage, one son, Edwin, who now owns and resides on the home place.

The last twelve years they had been spending parts of the winter in Florida. He was likely the oldest Amish bishop at the time of his death and possibly did more traveling in his time than any other Amish bishop. His records show that he had traveled more than 466,000 miles by rail and nearly 60,000 miles by bus and auto. He preached about 2,600 sermons, of which over 260 were communion sermons, and over 136 funeral sermons. He baptized 473 persons, officiated in 197 marriages, ordained 36 ministers and 15 bishops.

Near the end of his life he wrote: "Should it be the Lord's will that my eyesight should not improve and I should get to the point where I could no longer see to read and take care of myself, I hope and trust that I will patiently adjust myself to His will and continue to praise Him for His goodness and mercy."

Whenever able Father was in church and continued to preach and testify to the grace and goodness of God. After attending a service at Pinecraft on Feb. 9, 1958, he remarked to someone after the meeting that he would not be attending church here any more. This proved to be true, for on the following Thursday morning he became very ill and after 48 hours of suffering passed away the morning of Feb. 15, 1958. Funeral services were held at Pinecraft, after which the body was taken to Indiana where services were held on Feb. 19, with burial in the cemetery on the home place where he was born. His voice among us is stilled, but his influence lingers on.

THE CHALLENGE OF CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

THE WAY OF THE CROSS IN HUMAN RELATIONS
By Guy F. Hershberger

This book brings the teachings of Jesus Christ to bear on the complexities of modern living and human relations problems. Every man's responsibility is examined in the light of God's eternal purpose.

Business, labor, race relations, the responsibility of the state, the role of the community, family, and person are brought under the searchlight of Christian discipleship. $5.50

THE HOLY SPIRIT AND THE HOLY LIFE
By Chester K. Lehman

Here we have a study of two interweaving threads of Biblical teaching. First, the nature of the Holy Spirit's work in man, and second, the character of the holy life. The author has (1) traced the work of the Holy Spirit through the Old and New Testaments, (2) emphasized Holy Spirit perfection in Christ—not in self and (3) paid special attention to the verb tenses.

Believing that religious experiences described in the Bible are normative, the author uses them as living illustrations to stimulate present-day Christians to become participants and sharers in the same experiences. $3.50
